

IPEH - Interprofessional Education-Health

IPEH 490/590 Social Determinants of Health: An Interprofessional Approach (3 Credit Hours)

The social determinants of health status and health outcomes, including structural, financial and personal influences will be examined. The utility of an interprofessional collaborative approach to health care delivery will be highlighted.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of the instructor

IPEH 590 Social Determinants of Health: An Interprofessional Approach (3 Credit Hours)

The social determinants of health status and health outcomes, including structural, financial and personal influences will be examined. The utility of an interprofessional collaborative approach to health care delivery will be highlighted.

Prerequisites: Junior standing or permission of the instructor